

JANE'S WALK

WALK AND TALK
OUR CITY'S NEIGHBOURHOODS

MAY 1 & 2, 2010

A weekend of free walking tours led by local people to engage their community

Join communities across North America to take part in this inspirational event about life in our city's neighbourhoods. Walking tours are led by volunteer leaders who want to share stories, joys and challenges of our communities.

Jane's Walk honours the legacy and ideas of urban activist and writer Jane Jacobs who championed the interests of local residents and pedestrians over a car-centered approach to planning.

JOIN

Visit thecalgaryfoundation.org in April to see the roster of Jane's Walks. Set aside some time on the first weekend of May and join a Jane's Walk for insight and conversation.

LEAD

Sign up as a volunteer Jane's Walk leader. Think of stories you want to share, a route you want to walk and some neighbours and friends who can help out. You might want to contact your local library and community association for information to bring your ideas to life. We're booking leaders now.

Calgary's Jane's Walk is organized by The Calgary Foundation as part of our vision of a community with citizens engaged in community building at all levels.
